Chidi Okonkwo

The Struggling Urban Professional

SHORT BIO

Chidi is a 28-year-old marketing executive living and working in Abuja. He has been searching for a new apartment for over 3 months. He is tired of dishonest agents who misrepresent properties and demand fees upfront. He wants to deal directly with landlords and find a home he can afford without stress.

CUSTOMER GOALS

- 1 Find a safe, affordable apartment close to his workplace in Abuja
- 2 Connect directly with landlords to negotiate rent without agent fees
- 3 Use a transparent platform that shows real prices and verified listings

FRUSTRATIONS / PAIN POINTS

- ! Agents demand money upfront before showing properties — then listings turn out to be misrepresented
- ! House hunting has taken over 3 months with no reliable digital alternative
- ! No way to compare rental prices across neighbourhoods to know if he is being overcharged

USER QUOTE

“

Having access to the landlord and a platform where I can negotiate the house rent would change everything for me.

CUSTOMER WORKAROUND

- Uses agents reluctantly despite bad experiences — no better option exists yet
- Asks friends, colleagues and family for leads on available properties
- Browses PropertyPro and NPC listings but finds them outdated and unverified
- Physically drives around neighbourhoods looking for 'To Let' signboards

The Student / First-Time Renter

SHORT BIO

Amaka is a 21-year-old 300-level student at a university in Ogbomoso. She is renting for the first time and has very little knowledge of how the process works. She depends on older students and family connections for leads. Her biggest fear is missing out on a good affordable home because she did not find out about it in time.

CUSTOMER GOALS

- 1 Find a safe, affordable place to live close to her campus
- 2 Discover available rental options without relying on senior students
- 3 Access an easy-to-use platform that lists student-friendly housing

FRUSTRATIONS / PAIN POINTS

- ! Good and affordable homes go very fast — competition is fierce near campus
- ! Completely dependent on personal connections who are not always available or reliable
- ! No centralised platform showing what is available near her university

“

The introduction of more houses to online platforms would help so much. I nearly missed my place because I did not know it was available.

CUSTOMER WORKAROUND

- Relies on older students and friends to share leads on available rooms
- Asks family members living nearby to physically check neighbourhoods for her
- Plans to use online listing platforms next time now that she knows they exist
